

Healing Through ART

QUEEN'S
CANCER
CENTERS

For those living with or who have been touched by cancer.

Tuesdays, 10:00 am - 12:00 pm

OCTOBER 13

Painted glass luminary (Webex)

NOVEMBER 10

Pen and Ink Mandala (Webex)

DECEMBER 8

Journal Making for Queen's Cancer Center patients (in-person at QCC Gazebo).

Sign up for morning session (9:00 am - 11:30 am) or afternoon session (12:30 pm - 2:30 pm).

SUPPLIES:

Queen's will provide the supplies for the October and November classes: glass votive, tea lights, and Bristol paper (announcement for pick-up day/time will be emailed to students)

Students are responsible for: ultra-fine Sharpies, acrylic paints/brushes, and acrylic pens(optional).

This program works in small group settings offering cancer patients and their families the opportunity to learn about their own creative resources as they meet the challenges of diagnosis, treatment and survivorship. This program is made possible by Queen's Cancer Centers.

Patients will work with Jocelyn A. Cheng, an oncology nurse, cancer survivor and successful Hawai'i artist who used art as a positive way to express herself during her own cancer experience.
